1. Record Nr. UNISA990003117640203316

Autore	BONA, Istvan
Titolo	The dawn of the dark ages : the Gepids and the Lombards in the Carpathian Basin / Istvan Bona
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Budapest : Corvina Press, c1976
ISBN	963-13-4493-2
Descrizione fisica	120 p. : ill. ; 23 cm.
Collana	Hereditas
Disciplina	943.901
Soggetti	Pannonia - Storia - Sec. 6.
Collocazione	S VII b 39
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia

2. Record Nr. UNINA9910465127103321

Autore	Spoerri Marlene
Titolo	Engineering revolution : the paradox of democracy promotion in Serbia / / Marlene Spoerri
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Philadelphia, Pennsylvania : , : University of Pennsylvania Press, , 2015 ©2015
ISBN	0-8122-9020-8
Edizione	[First edition.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (255 p.)
Disciplina	320.9497109/0511
Soggetti	Democratization - Serbia Democratization - Government policy - Serbia Democratization - International cooperation - Serbia Regime change - Serbia Political parties - Serbia Electronic books. Serbia Politics and government 1992-2006
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Bibliographic Level Mode of Issuance: Monograph
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Front matter -- Contents -- List of Abbreviations -- Introduction -- 1. Promoting Democracy and Aiding Political Parties Abroad -- 2. The Absence of Aid in Miloševi's Serbia, 1990–1996 -- 3. Preparing for Regime Change, 1997–2000 -- 4. Democracy Promotion in Miloševi's Shadow, 2001–2012 -- 5. Rethinking Aid's Legacy in Serbia -- Appendix. List of Interviewees -- Notes -- Bibliography -- Index -- Acknowledgments
Sommario/riassunto	The nonviolent overthrow of Balkan dictator Slobodan Miloševi in October 2000 is celebrated as democracy promotion at its best. This perceived political success has been used to justify an industry tasked with "exporting" democracy to countries like Belarus, Ukraine, Tunisia, and Egypt. Yet the true extent of the West's involvement in Miloševi's overthrow remained unclear until now. Engineering Revolution uses declassified CIA documents and personal interviews with diplomats, aid providers, and policymakers, as well as thousands of pages of internal NGO documents, to explore what proponents consider one of the greatest successes of the democracy promotion enterprise. Through its in-depth examination of the two decades that preceded and followed Miloševi's unseating, as well as its critical look at foreign assistance targeting Serbia's troubled political party landscape, Engineering Revolution upends the conventional wisdom on the effectiveness of democracy promotion in Serbia. Marlene Spoerri demonstrates that democracy took root in Serbia in spite of, not because of, Western intervention—in fact, foreign intervention often hurt rather than helped Serbia's tenuous transition to democracy. As Western governments recalibrate their agendas in the wake of the Arab Spring, this timely book offers important lessons for the democracy promotion community as it sets its sights on the Middle East, former Soviet Union, and beyond.