Sommario/riassunto	The Journal of Speech and Language Pathology-Applied Behavior Analysis (SLP-ABA) is published quarterly by Joseph Cautilli. SLP-ABA is an online, electronic publication of general circulation to the scientific community. SLP-ABA is dedicated to the continued behavior analytic interventions for speech and language issues. This inter-disciplinary journal hopes to highlight the importance of conducting speech and language research from a strong theoretical base. SLP - ABA areas of interest include, but are not limited to: Stuttering, communication disorders, speech and language pathology, stroke rehabilitation, first and second language acquisition, phonemic awareness and the development and remediation of reading from a behavior analytic perspective.
