

1.	Record Nr.	UNINA990004064700403321
	Titolo	RELAZIONI dei Rettori e discorsi inaugurali dei docenti nella libera Università degli studi di Urbino : 1864-1946 / a cura di Filippo Marra e Livio Schirollo
	Pubbl/distr/stampa	Urbino : Università degli studi, 1997
	Descrizione fisica	3 v. ; 25 cm
	Disciplina	378.456774
	Locazione	FLFBC
	Collocazione	378.456 REL 1 (1-3)
	Lingua di pubblicazione	Italiano
	Formato	Materiale a stampa
	Livello bibliografico	Monografia
	Note generali	In custodia
2.	Record Nr.	UNINA9910410024503321
	Autore	Moulds Sarah
	Titolo	Committees of influence : Parliamentary rights scrutiny and counter-terrorism lawmaking in Australia / / Sarah Moulds
	Pubbl/distr/stampa	Singapore : , : Springer Singapore : , : Imprint : Springer, , 2020
	ISBN	9789811543500 981154350X
	Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (303 pages)
	Disciplina	328.940505
	Soggetti	Parliamentary practice - Australia Law Constitutional law Political science Terrorism Political violence Human rights Fundamentals of Law Constitutional Law Governance and Government Terrorism and Political Violence Human Rights

Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Nota di bibliografia	Contains bibliographical references.
Nota di contenuto	Part I: Parliamentary Committees and Rights Protection in Australia -- Chapter 1. Introduction -- Chapter 2. Methodology -- Chapter 3. The Australian Landscape and the Making of Counter-Terrorism Laws -- Part II: Applying the Assessment Framework -- Chapter 4. Participation and Legitimacy -- Chapter 5. Legislative Impact -- Chapter 6. Public Impact -- Chapter 7 -- Hidden Impact -- Part III: Improving the Rights-Protecting Capacity of the Parliamentary Committee System -- Chapter 8. Capitalising on the Rights-Protecting Potential of the System of Parliamentary Committees -- Chapter 9. Refining the Roles and Promoting the Strengths of Individual Committees within the System -- Chapter 10. Conclusion.
Sommario/riassunto	This book includes original and ground breaking research into parliamentary law making and legislative responses to counter-terrorism in Australia. This book introduces new, holistic and evidenced-based methods of evaluating how parliaments deliberate on complex policy issues, and how they weigh up competing rights and interests. Although this book is focused on the Australian experience, it has relevance across all parliamentary democracies grappling with the challenges posed by ensuring robust rights protection whilst responding to the threat of terrorism. This book will be of relevance and interest to law makers, government administrators and public servants, law enforcement and intelligence agencies, political and legal scholars, law students and members of the legal profession. This book is designed to provide a unique, evidence-based perspective on Australia's parliamentary model of rights protection and on the experience of counter-terrorism law making in Australia since 2011. By focusing on the role and impact of the federal parliamentary committee system, this book offers a fresh perspective on the contemporary legal and political debate on the best legal mechanism for rights protection in Australia. By using counter-terrorism laws as a detailed case study, this book also contributes in a timely, authoritative way to the debate on balancing individual liberties with national security. Using a contemporary case study of Australia's counter-terrorism, this book employs a unique, three tiered methodology to explore the impact of the system of parliamentary committees system on federal laws. The findings in this book give rise to practical recommendations for reform and provide a fresh new perspectives on Australia's parliamentary model of rights protection. This book has broad implications for rights scholars and rights advocates contemplating new models of rights protection in Australia. This book offers important practical insights to other jurisdictions grappling with the challenges posed by ensuring robust rights protection whilst responding to the threat of terrorism.