

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910136781203321
Autore	Kolstø Pål
Titolo	The new Russian nationalism : imperialism, ethnicity and authoritarianism 2000-15 // edited by Pal Kolstø and Helge Blakkisrud [[electronic resource]]
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Edinburgh : , : Edinburgh University Press, , 2016
ISBN	1-4744-1875-9
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (xix, 424 pages) : digital, PDF file(s)
Disciplina	947.086
Soggetti	Nationalism - Russia (Federation) Russians - Ethnic identity Nationalism - Former Soviet republics Russia (Federation) Ethnic relations Russia (Federation) Politics and government 21st century
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Title from publisher's bibliographic system (viewed on 29 Sep 2017).
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (pages 362-406) and index.
Nota di contenuto	The ethnification of Russian nationalism -- The imperial syndrome and its influence on Russian nationalism -- Radical nationalists from the start of Medvedev's presidency to the war in Donbas: True till death? -- Russian ethnic nationalism and religion today -- Everyday nationalism in Russia in European context: Moscow residents' perceptions of ethnic minority migrants and migration -- Backing the USSR 2.0: Russia's ethnic minorities and expansionist ethnic Russian nationalism -- Rallying 'round the leader more than the flag: Changes in Russian nationalist public opinion 2013-14 -- How nationalism and machine politics mix in Russia -- Blurring the boundary between civic and ethnic: The Kremlin's new approach to national identity under Putin's third term -- Russia as an anti-liberal European civilisation -- Ethnicity and nationhood on Russian state-aligned television: Contextualising geopolitical crisis -- The place of economics in Russian national identity debates.
Sommario/riassunto	This book surveys Russian nationalism as a political, social and intellectual phenomenon by leading Western and Russian experts. Includes case studies on the relationship between nationalism and migrantophobia; religion; the media; national identity in economic policy; the strategy of the Putin regime and public opinion.
