

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910138852103321
Autore	Edwards Rosalind
Titolo	What is qualitative interviewing? // Rosalind Edwards and Janet Holland
Pubbl/distr/stampa	London : , : Bloomsbury, , 2013
ISBN	1-4725-4524-9 1-84966-802-7 1-84966-801-9
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (124 pages) : illustrations
Collana	'What is?' research methods series, , 2048-6812
Disciplina	001.433
Soggetti	Interviewing Social sciences - Research - Methodology Qualitative research Interviewing in sociology
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	What do the key terms used about qualitative interviews mean? -- How have qualitative interviews developed? -- What forms can qualitative interviews take? -- Where can qualitative interviews take place? -- What sort of research tools can be used in conducting qualitative interviews? -- What are the practicalities involved in conducting qualitative interviews? -- What are the power and emotional dynamics of qualitative interviews? -- What are the strengths, challenges and future of qualitative interviews?
Sommario/riassunto	"This book makes clear the procedures and practices surrounding qualitative interviewing. Qualitative interviews are a critical part of qualitative research, but understandings of what it means to carry out interviews have shifted over time. This book provides the latest studies and practical guidance on how to cater for a broad range of research. It shows researchers and students how to begin with key questions and theories and the best interviewing tactic to take. What is Qualitative Interviewing? addresses the changes brought by new technologies as well as enduring issues such as asking and listening, the implications of power dynamics, and the broader social relations for research and interviewer-interviewee relations."--Bloomsbury Publishing.

