Sommario/riassunto	This book examines historical and imaginary scenarios of apocalypse, the depiction of its likely triggers, and imagined landscapes in the aftermath of global destruction. Its discussion moves effortlessly from classic novels including Aldous Huxley's Brave New World , George Orwell's Nineteen Eighty-Four and Margaret Atwood's Oryx and Crake , to blockbuster films such as Blade Runner , Armageddon and The Terminator . The author also takes into account religious doctrine, scientific research and the visual arts to create a penetrating, multi-disciplinary study that provides profound insight into one of Western cultures' darkest and most enduring preoccupations.
