

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910143291903321
Autore	Sunley Peter
Titolo	Putting workfare in place [[electronic resource]] : local labour markets and the new deal / / Peter Sunley, Ron Martin and Corinne Nativel
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Malden, MA, : Blackwell Pub., 2006
ISBN	1-280-28592-3 9786610285921 0-470-79587-5 1-4051-5225-7
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (xii, 241 p.) : ill., maps
Collana	RGS-IBG book series
Altri autori (Persone)	MartinRon NativelCorinne
Disciplina	331.1370941
Soggetti	Youth - Employment - Government policy - Great Britain Welfare recipients - Employment - Government policy - Great Britain Labor market - Great Britain Electronic books.
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Bibliographic Level Mode of Issuance: Monograph
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (p. [212]-230) and index.
Nota di contenuto	Series Editors' Preface. Preface. List of Tables. List of Figures. 1 Locating the New Deal. 2 The Geographies of Worklessness. 3 Local Disparities in the Performance of Welfare-to-Work. 4 Welfare-to-Work in Local Context. 5 A Geography of Mismatch? Employers, Jobs and Training. 6 Localising Welfare-to-Work? 7 Conclusions. Notes. Bibliography. Index.
Sommario/riassunto	Offering an authoritative analysis of the Labour government's New Deal for Young People, the contributors in this volume argue that profound differences in local labour market conditions have had a marked influence on the New Deal's achievements.