Nota di contenuto	Frontmatter -- Fifty-Five Years with Russia -- Index
Sommario/riassunto	The academic career of internationally recognized Professor of Slavic Studies Magnus Ljunggren spans more than a half century. Here he looks back over his meetings with prominent members of the Russian intelligentsia who from the liberalizing XXII Party Congress in 1961 and down to the present have in various forms struggled with the totalitarian structures of Soviet and post-Soviet society. As a literary scholar Ljunggren has focused on Andrei Bely's novel Petersburg, Russian Symbolism and Russian Silver Age literature and culture. His memoirs reflect on how his study of Symbolism and his commitment to the Russian civil rights movement over the years have stimulated each other and contributed to a deeper understanding of Russia's distinctive character. Ljunggren's gallery of intimate and colorful portraits includes Bulat Okudzhava, Yevgeny Yevtushenko, Joseph Brodsky, Viktor Shklovsky, Lidia Chukovskaya, and Nina Berberova.

Sommario/riassunto	Veröffentlicht 1899, ist "Escal-Vigor" des belgischen Schriftstellers Georges Eekhoud eine sehr fruhe und gewagte Darstellung von Homosexualität zur Zeit der Jahrhundertwende. Zeitlich vor dem Autor Gide, schreibt Eekhoud einen Roman, der vollig der Liebesgeschichte zwischen zwei Mannern gewidmet ist. Interessant dabei ist, dass ihr tragisches Schicksal mit einer gewaltigen Begeisterung geschrieben ist. Homosexualität ist gekennzeichnet als eine "absolute Religion", und in seinem Roman will Eekhoud seine Leser eindeutig konvertieren und reformieren.
