

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910151587603321
Autore	Robins Jonathan
Titolo	Cotton and race across the Atlantic : Britain, Africa, and America, 1900-1920 // Jonathan E. Robins [[electronic resource]]
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Rochester, NY : , : University of Rochester Press, , 2016
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (xi, 298 pages) : digital, PDF file(s)
Collana	Rochester studies in African history and the diaspora ; ; v. 73
Disciplina	338.1/7351096
Soggetti	Cotton trade - Africa - History Cotton trade - England - Lancashire - History Cotton trade - United States
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Title from publisher's bibliographic system (viewed on 31 Jul 2019).
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	The cotton crisis: Lancashire, the American South, and the turn to "Empire Cotton" -- "The Black man's crop": The British Cotton Growing Association and Africa -- "The scientific redemption of Africa": Coercion and regulation in colonial agriculture -- "King Cotton's impoverished retinue": Making cotton a "White man's crop" in the American South -- Cotton, development, and the "Imperial Burden."
Sommario/riassunto	The story of how African farmers, African-American scientists, and British businessmen struggled to turn colonial Africa into a major cotton exporter.