Sommario/riassunto	When Finn Ryan's family moves from Austin, Texas, to quiet Woodland Park, Colorado, the summer before his senior year, Finn struggles to adjust. Even the altitude is hard to get used to. But when he meets Ivan Dubovasky at a farmers' market, all that changes. Finn begins volunteering at Ivan's family business, High Mountain Wolf and Wild Dog Center, where he forms a bond with both Ivan and the wolves they protect. Soon Ivan's best friend, Adrian, who's asexual, joins their small pack, and the three of them become inseparable, even after Ivan and Finn begin dating--until a bully's torment of Adrian goes too far. When Adrian disappears, Ivan and Finn will do anything they can to rescue their boyfriend, including relying on a special wolf to bring Adrian home.
