Sommario/riassunto	He's one of the smartest, the best ... and the baddest. Since Dane achieved his lifelong dream of becoming a Navy Seal, his life has been packed with action ... but now he wants more. Especially after seeing several of his friends find something - someone - special. On a mission hunting a chemical weapons terrorist, Dane runs into a captivating woman, and everything about her touches his deepest needs. But the circumstances are suspicious, and he can't determine whose side she's on. Marielle came to Germany for a short busman's holiday, only to end up running away from the very man she came to see, and into the arms of a man she knows she'll never be able to keep. As their situation slides from bad to worse to desperate, their lives are on the line. And so are their hearts.
