

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910157419303321
Autore	Donaghy Harry
Titolo	The 6th Connaught Rangers : Belfast Nationalists and the Great War / / Harry Donaghy, Dr. Richard Grayson and Sean O. Hare
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Belfast, Northern Ireland : , : Ulster Historical Foundation, , 2011
ISBN	1-908448-36-9
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (182 p.)
Disciplina	940.409417
Soggetti	World War, 1914-1918 - Participation, Irish
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di contenuto	The 6th Connaught Rangers: Belfast Nationalists and the Great War; Title Page; Copyright Page; Contents; 6Th Connaught Rangers Project Steering Committee; Acknowledgements; In Memoriam: Our Irish Dead; 1 Introduction; 2 Belfast and the British Army before 1916; 3 The Connaught Rangers: A Brief Outline; 4 The 6th Connaught Rangers at War; 5 Demoralisation on the Home Front; 6 The Connaught Rangers Mutiny, India 1920; 7 Stephen Lally's Rebel Rangers; 8 Off to war: Newspaper reports from the time; 9 Michael and Robert Brennan; 10 The Conlon Family; 11 Tommy 'Topper' Devlin; 12 Patrick Donnelly 13 Patrick McKillen14 James Patrick McKenna; 15 Patrick O'Hare; 16 The 6th Connaught Rangers Timeline; Belfast Enlistees In The 6Th Connaught Rangers 1914-1918; How To Find Out More About The 6Th Connaught Rangers; Useful Addresses
Sommario/riassunto	Until recently the military record of Belfast nationalists inWorld War One was a part of this City's hidden history. The revised edition of this book seeks to assist the renewed and growing interest in this important part of nationalist history that lay for decades in the shaded margins of contemporary historical events. New political circumstances in our society have made it easier to address the questions of why so many young nationalist men of that time enlisted in regiments of the British Army in 1914-1915, hundreds of them in the 6th Battalion of the Connaught Rangers alone. <