Sommario/riassunto	Previously self-published Forever More Publishing (2014). Kaisa has a rule about dating male humans. She doesn't. A past relationship had left her unable to trust one again. Then Devin comes into her life, and makes her long for things she knows she's better off not feeling. She tries her damndest to push him away, but no matter what she does, he won't let her. Devin wanted Kaisa to be his since the day he'd met her. He has no problem with her being a hybrid, half werewolf and half vampire. In fact, he wants her to turn him, if only to prove he's her perfect mate. As the vampires who have hunted Kaisa and her brothers for centuries make a move against them, she has to make a decision. Accept Devin into her life or cut him out of it for his own good.
