Sommario/riassunto	Police detective Gabe Sinclair sees broken laws and broken lives every day. The last thing he needs is to add to the list is a broken heart. The law he's made for himself is never let a relationship get serious--that's how he got burned before. So when Gabe hears the word "love" he calls it off--even though the word is coming from the lovely Sylvia O'Shea. Sylvia dedicates herself to running her organic farm and to her hot relationship with a darkly handsome detective. When her boyfriend runs off fast as a cop in pursuit and her past comes calling, Sylvia struggles to rebuild her future, still wondering about what might have been. Months later, an investigation brings Gabe to Syliva's farm. He can't resist her lure and offers a no-promises relationship. But no-commitment works both ways. Will Gabe realize that some laws are made to be broken...before it's too late?
