| Sommario/riassunto      | With a successful career, and his dream house under construction, the only thing missing from Adrien Peterson's life is love. Since high school, Adrien's heart has belonged to the irresistible Gracie Sinclair. If only he could make her see it...Single mother Gracie's worked hard for everything she's got. Between her son, her nursing job, and violin playing, she's built a life that, if not a dream, is something she can be proud of. She's had enough lovers and family walk out on her to know not to want more. But then Adrien moves next door while his house is being built, bringing with him a tempting charm she remembers all too well. Adrien is determined to break down the walls around Gracie's heart. When she reluctantly agrees to a six-week trial relationship, he has one shot to show her just what a dream love can be. |
