Sommario/riassunto	A Malcolm & Suzanne Rannoch Historical Mystery Novella A year and a half after entering her unusual marriage of convenience to British attach and intelligence agent, Malcolm Rannoch, Suzanne Rannoch pays her first visit to her husband's home. England: the country her husband fled for reasons she does not fully understand; the country Suzanne has secretly spent the last five years fighting against as a French spy. The trip takes Suzanne and her husband to the heart of London society-the world Malcolm grew up in. A glamorous labyrinth of unwritten rules and unvoiced codes. Yet the glittering ballrooms of London are not free of the intrigues of the Napoleonic Wars. The search for stolen papers that could tip the international balance of power pits Malcolm and Suzanne against each other. Suzanne faces a stark choice between her loyalty to her cause and her love for the man she married- in order to spy on him. "Shimmers like the finest salons in Vienna." -Deborah Crombie "Meticulous, delightful, and full of surprises." -Tasha Alexander "Glittering balls, deadly intrigue, sexual scandals. . .the next best thing to actually being there!" -Lauren Willig"A superb storyteller."-Deanna Raybourn
