Sommario/riassunto	'Coreference' presents specificities of reference, anaphora and coreference in Polish, establish identity-of-reference annotation model and present methodology used to create the corpus of Polish general nominal coreference. Various resolution approaches are presented, followed by their evaluation. By discussing the subsequent steps of building a coreference-related component of the natural language processing toolset and offering deeper explanation of the decisions taken, this volume might also serve as a reference book on state-of the art methods of carrying out coreference projects for new languages and a tutorial for NLP practitioners. Apart from serving as a description of the first complete approach to annotation and resolution of direct nominal coreference for Polish, this book is a useful starting point for further work on other types of anaphora/coreference, semantic annotation, cognitive linguistics (related to the topic of near-identity, discussed in the book) etc. With extended tutorial-like sections on important subtopics, such as evaluation metrics for coreference resolution, it can prove useful to both researchers and practitioners interested in semantic description of Balto-Slavic languages and their processing, engineers developing language resources, tools and linguistic processing chains, as well as computational linguists in general.

Sommario/riassunto

Burning Conscience: The Case of the Hiroshima Pilot, Claude Eatherly, is a compelling collection of letters between Claude Eatherly, the pilot involved in the Hiroshima bombing, and philosopher Günther Anders. The book provides profound insights into the moral and psychological impacts of atomic warfare on those who execute it. Eatherly's letters reveal his profound remorse and the personal turmoil he faced, challenging societal perceptions of heroism and madness in the context of war. The correspondence highlights the broader ethical implications of nuclear weapons and the delayed moral consequences that plague individuals and nations. Prefaces by Bertrand Russell and Robert Jungk emphasize the symbolic nature of Eatherly's case, urging readers to reflect on the moral crisis of modern warfare. Intended for readers interested in moral philosophy, history, and the psychological effects of war, the book offers a unique perspective on the human conscience in the atomic age.
