

- | | |
|-------------------------|--|
| 1. Record Nr. | UNINA9910713413703321 |
| Titolo | Be a grower, not a mowerTM |
| Pubbl/distr/stampa | [Washington, DC] : , : [Environmental Protection Agency], , 1996 |
| Descrizione fisica | 1 online resource (6 pages) : illustrations |
| Soggetti | Lawns - Equipment and supplies - Environmental aspects - United States |
| Lingua di pubblicazione | Inglese |
| Formato | Materiale a stampa |
| Livello bibliografico | Monografia |
| Note generali | "EPA 420-F-96-018"--Page 6.
"Number 04."
"Reprinted with permission from Gardener's Supply Company, 1966." |
-
- | | |
|-------------------------|---|
| 2. Record Nr. | UNINA9910162669703321 |
| Autore | Gant Gene |
| Titolo | Always leaving / / Gene Gant |
| Pubbl/distr/stampa | Harmony Ink Press |
| ISBN | 1-63216-589-9 |
| Descrizione fisica | 1 online resource (180 p.) |
| Disciplina | 813/.6 |
| Lingua di pubblicazione | Inglese |
| Formato | Materiale a stampa |
| Livello bibliografico | Monografia |
| Sommario/riassunto | When Jason Barrett wakes up, he remembers only one thing: his name. Frightened and driven by paranoia, Jason keeps moving, going from town to town working odd jobs and making no friends. When he stumbles onto an emergency in New Hanover and saves a fellow teenage boy, it offers him the first connection he's felt in a while. All |

Ravi Mittal learns about his knight-in-shining armor is his name. Jason. But New Hanover is a small town and it is easy to reconnect. To return Jason's kindness, Ravi wants to help solve the riddle of Jason's missing past. As they work through clues, Jason begins to feel settled. He finds a place he belongs with Ravi-maybe something more. But Ravi's father's deep-seated prejudice against the African American teen threatens to tear Jason and Ravi apart... if the mystery chasing Jason doesn't do it first.
