This is the story of the "other" Houston, Joshua, the slave of Margaret Sommario/riassunto Lea until she married Sam Houston and moved to Texas in 1840. Joshua was unique among slaves: he was taught to read and write, and was allowed to keep money he earned. The story is set in a background of historical details about southern social history before, during, and after the Civil War. Sources include slave autobiographies and biographies; Houston family letters; oral histories of descendants of and deeds: church and school records.

both Houston families; birth, marriage and death records; land records
