

- | | |
|-------------------------|---|
| 1. Record Nr. | UNINA9910511106403321 |
| Autore | Holmboe, Henrik |
| Titolo | Concordance to Aeschylus' Supplices / by Henrik Holmboe |
| Pubbl/distr/stampa | [Aarhus], : Akademisk Boghandel, 1971 |
| Descrizione fisica | II, 332 p. ; 32 cm |
| Locazione | FLFBC |
| Collocazione | 483 AESCHYLUS 8 |
| Lingua di pubblicazione | Greco antico |
| Formato | Materiale a stampa |
| Livello bibliografico | Monografia |
-
- | | |
|-------------------------|--|
| 2. Record Nr. | UNINA9910163920703321 |
| Autore | Fredette Karen Karper |
| Titolo | Where God Is Ever Found |
| Pubbl/distr/stampa | Karen Karper Fredette |
| ISBN | 1-61750-909-4 |
| Descrizione fisica | 1 online resource (250 p.) |
| Lingua di pubblicazione | Inglese |
| Formato | Materiale a stampa |
| Livello bibliografico | Monografia |
| Sommario/riassunto | Hermits are a rare breed. Married hermits are about as common as spotted owls. Marry a Roman Catholic priest to a former nun, nest them in a mountainside hermitage named Still Wood, and you may have a brand new species. This memoir is a three-way love saga - God, a priest and a nun joined to minister to hermits world-wide and to the mentally disabled in the isolated mountain county of "Bloody" Madison, North Carolina. Each chapter weaves together incidents from four | periods of my life - seventeen years in a middle-class Catholic home; thirty spiritually challenging years as a cloistered nun; six transformative years as a hermit, and sixteen loving years as a wife. My earlier book, "Where God Begins to Be, A Woman's Journey into Solitude" has created a crowd of curious readers asking "Why would you?" and "How could you?" marry a priest and continue your commitment to eremitical life? Answering this unforeseen Call has colored my autumn years with excitement, love and challenge.
