

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910219967003321
Autore	Gonzales Daniel <1956->
Titolo	Cost-Benefit Analysis of Proposed California Oil and Gas Refinery Regulations
Pubbl/distr/stampa	RAND Corporation, 2016
ISBN	0-8330-9525-0
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource
Disciplina	622/.8
Soggetti	Energy industries and utilities History of the Americas Occupational medicine
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Sommario/riassunto	The research reported here assessed the costs and benefits of the proposed California process safety management (PSM) and California Accidental Release Prevention regulations that are designed to improve safety at oil and gas refineries operating in California. The authors estimate these costs and benefits in four categories: costs to industry, costs to society, benefits to industry, and benefits to society.