

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910220098503321
Autore	Chivvis Christopher
Titolo	Recasting NATO's strategic concept : possible directions for the United States // Christopher S. Chivvis
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Santa Monica, CA, : RAND, 2009
ISBN	0-8330-4945-3
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (xv, 36 pages)
Collana	Occasional paper Recasting NATO's strategic concept
Disciplina	355/.031091821
Soggetti	Strategy Security, International International cooperation Military planning United States Military policy United States Foreign relations 2009-
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references.
Nota di contenuto	Cover; Preface; Contents; Tables; Summary; Acknowledgments; Abbreviations; CHAPTER ONE - Introduction; Why Rewrite the Strategic Concept?; Balancing Strategic Flexibility and Coherence; Outline of This Paper; CHAPTER TWO - Direction 1: Refocus on Europe; Strategic Rationale; Basic Military Implications; Main Challenges; Assessment; CHAPTER THREE - Direction 2: A New Focus on the Greater Middle East; Strategic Rationale; Basic Military Implications; Main Challenges; Assessment; CHAPTER FOUR - Direction 3: A Focus on Fragile States; Strategic Rationale; Basic Military Implications Main ChallengesAssessment; CHAPTER FIVE - Direction 4: A Focus on Nonstate Threats; Strategic Rationale; Basic Military Implications; Main Challenges; Assessment; CHAPTER SIX - Direction 5: A Global Alliance of Liberal Democracies; Strategic Rationale; Basic Military Implica; Main Challenges; Assessment; CHAPTER SEVEN - Conclusions; Refocus on Europe, Focus on Nonstate Threats, and Focus on Fragile States; Refocus on Europe and Focus on Nonstate Threats; Refocus on Europe and Focus on the Greater Middle East Refocus on Europe, Focus on the Greater Middle East, Focus on Fragile

Sommario/riassunto

The revision of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's strategic concept offers an excellent opportunity to build an alliance capable of addressing the shared problems that its member states face. To spur debate over concrete problems, this paper examines five possible future directions for the alliance.

---