Sommario/riassunto	In seeking a modernized North Korea, the focus should be on stimulating a gradual modernization of the North Korean system rather than removing the regime. With this tenet in mind, six institutions in five countries that have key interests in North Korea's future undertook a collaborative effort to determine ways in which the North Korean system could move toward modernization over the medium to long term. This endeavor can be viewed as ?participatory systems analysis? in that the participants, in analyzing the North Korean system and how to motivate its modernization, fused their sometimes di
