

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910220152603321
Autore	Chivvis Christopher S
Titolo	EU civilian crisis management : the record so far // Christopher S. Chivvis
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Santa Monica, CA, : RAND, c2010
ISBN	1-282-94040-6 9786612940408 0-8330-5024-9
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (70 p.)
Disciplina	355.4
Soggetti	Civil-military relations - European Union countries Crisis management - European Union countries Military missions Postwar reconstruction - Afghanistan Postwar reconstruction - Kosovo (Republic) European Union countries Military policy
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (p. 49-52).
Nota di contenuto	The European Union's civilian military capabilities -- The EU's civilian aspirations -- Basic structures -- General record so far -- Police missions -- Rule of law missions -- Monitoring missions -- Administration missions -- EUPOL Afghanistan -- EULEX Kosovo -- Overcoming the EU's staffing problems -- EU added value on civilian missions : generic considerations -- EU's added value : considerations for the United States -- The NATO-EU impasse -- Military vs. civilian?.
Sommario/riassunto	The European Union has been deploying civilians in conflict and postconflict stabilization missions since 2003, and the scope of civilian missions is likely to increase in the future. This volume offers a general overview and assessment of the EU's civilian operations to date, as well as a more in-depth look at the two missions in which the EU has worked alongside NATO: Afghanistan and Kosovo.