

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910220157603321
Titolo	From insurgency to stability . Volume I Key capabilities and practices [[electronic resource] /] / Angel Rabasa ... [et al.]
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Santa Monica, Calif., : RAND Corp., 2011
ISBN	1-283-71441-8 0-8330-5305-1
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (273 p.)
Collana	Rand Corporation monograph series From insurgency to stability
Altri autori (Persone)	RabasaAngel
Disciplina	327.73 355.425
Soggetti	Insurgency United States Armed Forces
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	"Prepared for the Office of the Secretary of Defense."
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references.
Nota di contenuto	Cover; Title Page; Copyright; Preface; Contents; Figures; Tables; Summary; Acknowledgments; Abbreviations; Chapter One: Introduction; The Goals of This Research; The Fragile Transition; COIN Transition; Different Levels of U.S. Involvement in Counterinsurgency; Major U.S. Involvement in the Counterinsurgency; Limited U.S. Involvement; No U. S. Involvement; Implications of Different Outcome Scenarios; Chapter Two: U.S. Interagency Planning and Implementation-Vision and Reality in 2010; The Department of State Coordinator for Reconstruction and Stabilization and the Civilian Response Corps Prospects for Improved Approaches to Interagency Planning and Execution of SROs Contractors as Vehicles for Continuity; Information Systems; Chapter Three: Military-to-Civilian Hand-Off of Security and Economic Operations; Describing Security and Economic Operations; Military Hand-Off of Security Operations; Sustaining Military-to-Military Relations; Hand-Off of Policing and Public Safety Programs; Hand-Off of Intelligence, Surveillance, and Reconnaissance Programs; Hand-Off of Economic Operations to Civilian Agency Leadership; Provincial Reconstruction Teams The United States Agency for International Development The DoD in Economic Operations; Economic Operations in Iraq; Hand-Off Challenges During Operation Iraqi Freedom; Project Coordination,

Assessment, and Transfer; Civilian Staffing and Continuity of Project Oversight; The Evolution of the PRTs After the Transition; Chapter Four: Disarmament, Demobilization, and Reintegration; The Concept of DDR; Definition; DDR Phases and Prerequisites; Eligibility Criteria for Inclusion in DDR Programs; Women; Child Soldiers; DDR and Technical Support

The Role of International Police in Post-COIN

EnvironmentsCoordination and Implementation of the DDR Process; Monitoring; Chapter Five: Police and Justice Functions; Introduction; Building Police Capabilities; The U.S. Experience with Police Assistance; Building Justice and Corrections Capabilities; The U.S. Experience with Justice and Corrections Assistance; Challenges in Building Police, Justice, and Corrections Systems inTransition Environments; Gaps in Policing Capabilities; Gaps in Justice Capabilities; Gaps That Could Be Filled Through New Research

Gaps That Could Be Filled Through Improved Planning

andCoordinationGaps That May Be Filled by International Partners; Chapter Six: The Contribution of International Partners; Transition-Relevant Capabilities of International Institutions; United Nations; European Union; Organization for Security and Co-operation in Europe; African Union; International Police Capabilities; United Nations; European Union; European Gendarmerie Forces; NATO Multinational Specialized Units; Organization for Security and Co-operation in Europe; African Union Police; Center of Excellence for Stability Police Units

Rule of Law

---

Sommario/riassunto

This book identifies the procedures and capabilities that the U.S. Department of Defense, other agencies of the U.S. government, U.S. allies and partners, and international organizations require in order to support the transition from counterinsurgency, when the military takes primary responsibility for security and economic operations, to stability and reconstruction, when police and civilian government agencies take the lead.

---