Sommario/riassunto

Located in a wide spectrum of current research and practice, from analyses of green ideology and imagery, environmental law and policy, and local environmental activism in the West to ethnographic studies of relationships between humans and their environments in hunter/gatherer societies, Environmentalism: The View from Anthropology offers an original perspective on what is probably the best-known issue of the late twentieth century. It will be particularly useful to all social scientists interested in environmentalism and human ecology, to environmental policy-makers and to undergraduates.
