

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910255243603321
Autore	Morris Michael A
Titolo	Language Politics of Regional Integration : Cases from the Americas / / by Michael A. Morris
Pubbl/distr/stampa	New York : , : Palgrave Macmillan US : , : Imprint : Palgrave Macmillan, , 2016
ISBN	1-137-56147-5
Edizione	[1st ed. 2016.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (X, 214 p.)
Classificazione	POL009000POL011000POL038000SOC053000
Disciplina	306.44/97
Soggetti	Political science Public policy Political theory International relations Area studies World politics Political Science Public Policy Political Theory International Relations Area Studies Political History
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Includes index.
Nota di contenuto	Machine generated contents note: -- List of Tables -- Acknowledgements -- 1. Comparative Language Politics -- 2. Language Politics and Integration in the Americas: Propositions and Framework -- 3. Language Politics in Canada and the United States -- 4. Middle American Language Politics -- 5. Caribbean Language Politics -- 6. Superpower Linguistic Competition in Cuba -- 7. Conclusion.
Sommario/riassunto	Language policies are politically sensitive in impacting, either positively or negatively, language choice, language prestige, and language spread. Rising regional integration, both formal and informal, adds to the sensitivity and complexity of language politics, whether in North America, South America or Europe. Language Politics of Regional Integration: Cases from the Americas shows how language politics vary across the region and contrast with language politics in Europe. Morris presents a framework for systematically comparing selected cases from the Americas by distinguishing between eight different dimensions of language politics. These are then applied to case studies of Canada, the United States, Mexico, Central America, and the Caribbean. The book concludes by identifying in each case particularly divisive issues as well as opportunities for promoting reconciliation.
