Sommario/riassunto	"Originating from the monumental ensemble of the arcade court of Vienna University, this thematic issue is dedicated to the tradition of academic memorials in an European-wide comparison. The first part of the volume focusses on the monuments of the Vienna University in context of development history and changing cultural and political framework conditions. The second part shows the European perspective and focusses on the ancient and early modern era origins of the hall of honour, and the the different manifestation in chosen European countries until today. The issue contributes with its diverse methodical articles in a significant way to a discursive discussion on tradition and currency of academic memorials."
