

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910330454803321
Titolo	Afterlives of Chinese communism : political concepts from Mao To Xi / / edited by Christian P Sorace, Ivan Franceschini and Nicholas Loubere
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Acton Australian Capital Territory, Australia : , : ANU Press : , : Verso, , [2019] ©2019
ISBN	1-78873-478-5 1-76046-249-7 1-78873-479-3
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (404 pages) : illustrations
Disciplina	338.951
Soggetti	Post-communism - China China Politics and government 1949-1976 China Politics and government 1976-2002 China Politics and government 2002- China
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references.
Sommario/riassunto	Afterlives of Chinese Communism includes essays from over 50 world-renowned scholars in the China field, from different disciplines, and continents. It provides an indispensable guide for understanding how the intellectual legacies of the Mao era shape Chinese politics today. The volume addresses the question: What lessons does the Chinese Revolution have for leftist thinking in the present? As a volume, the essays speak to each other by answering this question. Across the various approaches, there is a sensitivity to the potentials, enthusiasms, and resistances to domination that Maoist concepts once generated. Each essay provides an introduction to a concept or keyword in Chinese politics, its origins in the Mao era, uses in the present, and potential futures. Participating in an emerging conversation on the futures of communism, the edited volume is designed as an archive of the political vocabulary of Maoism, and a legend to the lost political cartographies of the past and any potential utopian futures.
