Sommario/riassunto	Neoliberal paradigms and the privatisation of housing have recently been confronted with social movements in many large European metropolises. The political and social need for more participation in housing, for new forms of urban land politics and for specific and powerful rental regulation is obvious. The special book section analyses these dimensions of housing and housing politics in a comparative European perspective and discusses new policy approaches for urban housing. Furthermore, the Jahrbuch StadtRegion offers scientific articles and reports, as well as a monitoring section and book reviews related to interdisciplinary urban research and planning issues.

Sommario/riassunto	Bicycle City: Riding the Bike Boom to a Brighter Future by Daniel Piatkowski explores the transformative potential of bicycles in urban environments. The book discusses the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on cycling, the rise of e-bikes, cargo bikes, and micromobility, and highlights the urban bias in bicycling infrastructure. Piatkowski shares his personal experiences moving from the U.S. to Oslo, Norway, and examines how European cities have successfully integrated cycling into their transportation systems. Aimed at urban planners, policymakers, and environmental advocates, the book advocates for a shift towards sustainable urban mobility and reduced automobile dependence to promote ecological health and livability.
