   Sommario/riassunto Nowadays, more and more digital technologies are used in education. And it has been changing the way of teaching and makes the class become more flexible and interactive. These changes are enabling educators to have a more diverse set of pedagogical approaches to support their learners, which means that they can be more inclusive in their teaching methods. With this end in view, 2018 2nd International Conference on Digital Technology in Education was held once again this year in Bangkok, Thailand during October 10-12, 2018.
