

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910410059403321
Autore	Dowlah Caf
Titolo	Cross-Border Labor Mobility : Historical and Contemporary Perspectives // by Caf Dowlah
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Cham : , : Springer International Publishing : , : Imprint : Palgrave Macmillan, , 2020
ISBN	3-030-36506-9
Edizione	[1st ed. 2020.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (xiii, 334 pages) : illustrations
Disciplina	331.62 364
Soggetti	Labor economics Human rights Anthropology Labor History Labor Economics Human Rights Labor History
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	1. Introduction -- 2. Global Human Migration -- 3. Slavery - The Ancient and Medieval Periods -- 4. Slavery in the New World - the Saga of Native Indians -- 5. Slavery in the New World - The Saga of Black Africans -- 6. Indentured Servitude - The Saga of the Indians and the Chinese -- 7. Temporary Cross-Border Mobility Since World War I -- 8. Cross-Border Labor Mobility - Europe -- 9. Cross-Border Labor Mobility - The United States -- 10. Cross-Border Labor Mobility in the Twenty-First Century -- 11. Theoretical Perspectives on Cross-Border Labor Mobility.
Sommario/riassunto	This book presents a comprehensive review of cross-border labor mobility from the ancient forms of slavery to the present day. The book covers African and Amerindian slaveries, indentured servitude of the Indians and the Chinese, guestworker programs, and contemporary labor migration focusing on the United States, the European Union, and the Gulf Region. The book highlights the economics and politics that condition such trends and patterns by addressing growing anti-immigrant sentiments as well as restrictive measures in the developed world and outlining inexorable forces that are likely to propel further expansion of cross-border mobility in the future. This multidisciplinary volume provides a highly dependable scholarly reference to researchers, students, academics as well as policy makers.
