

|                         |  |
|-------------------------|--|
| 1. Record Nr.           | UNINA9910449876603321  |
| Titolo                  | Technology and real estate [[electronic resource] /] / guest editor Tim Dixon  |
| Pubbl/distr/stampa      | Bradford, England, : Emerald Group Publishing, c2005   |
| ISBN                    | 1-280-50952-X97866105095221-84544-790-5  |
| Descrizione fisica      | 1 online resource (69 p.)  |
| Collana                 | Journal of property investment & finance ; ; v. 23, no. 6  |
| Altri autori (Persone)  | DixonTim   |
| Disciplina              | 333.332  |
| Soggetti                | Information technologyReal propertyElectronic books.   |
| Lingua di pubblicazione | Inglese  |
| Formato                 | Materiale a stampa   |
| Livello bibliografico   | Monografia   |
| Note generali           | Description based upon print version of record.  |
| Nota di contenuto       | CONTENTS; EDITORIAL ADVISORY BOARD; Editorial; The impact of information and communications technology on commercial real estate in the new economy; Impact of information and communications technology on real estate space; Information and communications technology and industrial property; Broadband technology; UK call centres: crossroads of an industry; Landlord and tenant update - underletting; Call for papers   |
| Sommario/riassunto      | This ebook drills deeper to analyse some of the trends and impacts that ICT is having on commercial real estate. Articles highlight key issues for research in ICT impact, examine the impact of technology in commercial office property and discuss the impact of ICT upon the industrial property sector through the identification of observable trends now and in the near future. So what can we take from these articles, and how is ICT impacting real estate? Firstly, they suggest more research is needed to determine its impact and perhaps longitudinal analysis will reveal a more accurate picture of ch |