

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910450088403321
Autore	Yu Henry <1967->
Titolo	Thinking Orientals [[electronic resource] ] : migration, contact, and exoticism in modern America // Henry Yu
Pubbl/distr/stampa	New York, : Oxford Universtiy Press, c2001
ISBN	1-282-36731-5 9786610470235 0-19-802761-3 1-280-47023-2 9786612367311 1-60256-772-7
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (xiv, 262 p.)
Disciplina	305.895073
Soggetti	Asian Americans - Social conditions - 20th century Asian Americans - Ethnic identity - Philosophy Chicago school of sociology Sociology - United States - History - 20th century Electronic books. United States Race relations Philosophy
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Formerly CIP.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (p. [215]-256) and index.
Nota di contenuto	FIRST MOVEMENT--COMING TO THE WEST: CONSTRUCTING THE ORIENTAL PROBLEM; 1. Professions of Faith: Missionaries, Sociologists, and the Survey of Race Relations, 1924-1926; 2. Thinking about Orientals: Chicago Sociologists and the Oriental Problem; 3. Orientalism and the Mapping of Race; 4. The Survey's End; SECOND MOVEMENT--COMING TO CHICAGO: ASIAN AMERICANS AND THE ORIENTAL PROBLEM; 5. Wanted: Interpreters and Informants, Orientals Please Apply; 6. Language of Hope: The Oriental as Marginal Man; 7. Language of Discontent: Using the Stranger's Perspective; RETRACINGS--COMING TO AMERICA: THE ORIENTAL AS AN INTELLECTUAL/OBJECT; 8. Performers on Stage; 9. American Orientalism as a Theory of Race, Space, and Identity; 10. Epilogue: Legacies and Descendants; An

Epitaph

Sommario/riassunto

This volume explains how Chinese Americans and Japanese Americans came to be lumped together as orientals and how this eventually led to their understanding of themselves as Asian Americans.