

|                         |   |
|-------------------------|---|
| 1. Record Nr.           | UNINA9910450306903321   |
| Titolo                  | Collaboration, co-operation and consortia [[electronic resource] /] /editor, Patricia Layzell Ward  |
| Pubbl/distr/stampa      | Bradford, England, : Emerald Group Publishing, c2002  |
| ISBN                    | 1-280-47992-297866104799241-84544-700-X   |
| Descrizione fisica      | 1 online resource (87 p.)   |
| Collana                 | Library management ; ; v.23, no. 4/5  |
| Altri autori (Persone)  | Layzell WardPatricia  |
| Disciplina              | 021.64  |
| Soggetti                | Library administrationLibrary scienceElectronic books.  |
| Lingua di pubblicazione | Inglese   |
| Formato                 | Materiale a stampa  |
| Livello bibliografico   | Monografia  |
| Note generali           | Description based upon print version of record.   |
| Nota di contenuto       | Contents; Abstracts & keywords; Editorial; Managing academic and research libraries partnerships; Establishing successful partnerships with university support units; External partnerships and academic libraries; Developments in academic library consortia from the 1960's through 2000; Management issues of co-operative ventures and consortia in the USA. Part one; What's fair?; A review of consortia building among university libraries in Africa; Management issues in library networking; Management musings 7; Internet editorial; Book reviews; A note from the publisher |
| Sommario/riassunto      | Participation in schemes of formal co-operation between library services has been part of management strategies for nearly a century. In trying to pin down dates serendipity revealed the following statement in Libraries at Large which emerged from the US National Commission on Libraries in the late 1960's.   |