

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910450467403321
Titolo	Tourism and the less developed world [[electronic resource]] : issues and case studies // edited by David Harrison
Pubbl/distr/stampa	New York, N.Y., : CABI Pub., c2001
ISBN	1-281-00427-8 9786611004279 0-85199-704-X
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (284 p.)
Collana	Tourism
Altri autori (Persone)	HarrisonDavid
Disciplina	338.4/791/091724
Soggetti	Tourism - Developing countries Electronic books.
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references.
Nota di contenuto	Contents; Notes on Contributors; Preface; 1 Less Developed Countries and Tourism: the Overall Pattern; 2 Tourism and Less Developed Countries: Key Issues; 3 Tourism Challenges in Developing Nations: Continuity and Change at the Millennium; 4 Human Resources in Tourism Development: African Perspectives; 5 Tourism in the Southern Common Market: MERCOSUL; 6 Tourism and Development in Communist and Post-communist Societies; 7 Tourism Development in China: the Dilemma of Bureaucratic Decentralization and Economic Liberalization 8 Japan and Tourism in the Pacific Rim: Locating a Sphere of Influence in the Global Economy9 Indian Tourism: Policy, Performance and Pitfalls; 10 The Journey: an Overview of Tourism and Travel in the Arab/Islamic Context; 11 Mass Tourism and Alternative Tourism in the Caribbean; 12 Resort-based Tourism on the Pleasure Periphery; 13 Child Sex Tourism in Thailand; 14 Community-based Ecotourism, Social Exclusion and the Changing Political Economy of KwaZulu-Natal, South Africa; 15 Wallace's Line: Implications for Conservation and Ecotourism in Indonesia 16 Ecotourism Development in the Rural Highlands of Fiji17 Afterword; Index

Sommario/riassunto

This multi-author book covers tourism and development issues from less developed societies and countries from around the world, with chapters on specific regions and specific themes that emerge from the interaction of tourism with such societies.
