

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910450500503321
Autore	Newman Richard S
Titolo	The Transformation of American Abolitionism [[electronic resource]] : Fighting Slavery in the Early Republic
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Chapel Hill, : University of North Carolina Press, 2002
ISBN	0-8078-6045-X
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (270 p.)
Disciplina	306.3620973 326.8/0973
Soggetti	Abolitionists African Americans Antislavery movements Social change History Political Science Social Science Antislavery movements - History - 18th century - United States Antislavery movements - History - 19th century - United States Abolitionists - History - 18th century - United States African Americans - Politics and government - 19th century - United States African Americans - Politics and government - 18th century - United States Social change - History - 19th century Social change - History Electronic books.
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di contenuto	Preface; Introduction: Abolitionist Transformations; 1. Republican Strategies; 2. Deferential Petitioners; 3. Creating Free Spaces; 4. An Appeal to the Heart; 5. From Pennsylvania to Massachusetts, from Colonization to Immediatism; 6. The New Abolitionist Imperative; 7. A Whole Lot of Shoe Leather; Epilogue: The Struggle Continued; Appendix

1: Letters from Maryland Slaveholders to Judge William Tilghman, Chief Justice of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court; Appendix 2: Maps; Notes;

Sommario/riassunto

A history of how abolitionism evolved from an elite and conservative movement to a radical, grassroots reform cause. It traces the development of the abolitionist movement from the 1770's to the 1830's, covering the attitudes and actions which made it the radical cause we think of it as today.
