

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910450883703321
Autore	Hibberd Matthew
Titolo	The media in Italy : press, cinema and broadcasting from unification to digital / / Matthew Hibberd
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Maidenhead, England ; ; New York, : McGraw-Hill/Open University, 2008 ©2008
ISBN	1-281-33116-3 0-335-23516-6
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (194 p.)
Collana	National medias
Disciplina	302.230945
Soggetti	Mass media - Political aspects - Italy Mass media - Italy - History Mass media - Political aspects - Italy - History Mussolini, Benito Press and politics - Italy - History Electronic books.
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di contenuto	Front cover; Half title; Series editor; Title page; Copyright; Contents; Acknowledgements; Map of Italy; Introduction; 1 The media and the Unification of Italy; 2 The liberal years, 1861-1922; 3 The media in fascist Italy; 4 The First Italian Republic: cinema and the press in the postwar years; 5 The First Italian Republic: Broadcasting and 'Mamma RAI'; 6 Broadcasting and the wild west years; 7 The Second Italian Republic: cinema and The Press since 1992; 8 Silvio Berlusconi; 9 Moving towards digital: Italian media in the new millennium; 10 Conclusion Timeline of political events in Italy, 1861-2007Notes; Bibliography; Index; Back cover
Sommario/riassunto	Framing the media in the context of Italy, this book explores why politics and government are so closely linked, and assess the question of whether it's just national pride that has allowed the media to remain relatively independent of global groups.

