

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910450893303321
Autore	Watson Victor
Titolo	Reading series fiction : from Arthur Ransome to Gene Kemp // Victor Watson
Pubbl/distr/stampa	London ; ; New York : , : RoutledgeFalmer, , 2000
ISBN	0-203-19039-4 1-134-58846-1 1-280-40222-9 0-203-18620-6
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (224p.)
Disciplina	823.00099282
Soggetti	Children's stories, English - History and criticism Children's literature in series - History and criticism Children - Books and reading Literature Children's stories, English - History and criticism - 20th century English fiction - History and criticism English Literature English Languages & Literatures Electronic books.
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Bibliographic Level Mode of Issuance: Monograph
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (pages [214]-224) and index.
Nota di contenuto	Introduction: a room full of friends Part I: Innocence aboard: Swallows and Amazons 1. A fellowship of innocence 2.The storm before the calm 3. Nancy Blackett - champion of goodness Part II: Series galore 4. Camping and tramping fiction, 1920-1960 5.The great Nanny-Narrator an the children of the War 6.Malco Saville: the price paid Part III: Fantasy 7. The Borrowers : brief encounters and a little air 8.Watching passionately: Lucy Boston and the Green Knowe series 9.The sun inside the window, shining out: The Dark Is Rising quintet Part IV: In and out of school 10. Jane Austen has gone missing 11.The various voices of Gene Kemp Conclusion: an invisible excellence

Sommario/riassunto

This work investigates series in children's literature. The works of several well-known children's authors are analyzed, and using these examples, the book explores the special nature and appeal of series' writing for children.
