

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910450967003321
Autore	Parkinson Sarah <1974->
Titolo	Telecentres, access and development [[electronic resource]] : experience and lessons from Uganda and South Africa // Sarah Parkinson
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Bourton-on-Dunsmore, : ITDG, c2005
ISBN	1-280-71792-0 9786610717927 1-55250-189-2
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (173 p.)
Disciplina	384.096
Soggetti	Telecommunication policy - Africa Telecommunication - Uganda Telecommunication - South Africa Digital divide - Uganda Digital divide - South Africa Electronic books.
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (p.[141]-143) and index.
Nota di contenuto	Contents; Foreword; Acknowledgements; List of tables; List of figures; List of photos and boxes; Acronyms and other abbreviations; Executive Summary; 1 Introduction; 2 Access centres and South Africa's universal access policy; 3 Uganda's experience with shared access centres and universal access policy; 4 Start-up and scalability of access centres; 5 Local livelihoods, reach and development impact; 6 Conclusions, lessons and research directions; Notes; Appendix; Bibliography; Index;
Sommario/riassunto	Presents an analysis of the experience of South Africa and Uganda in their quest for universal access, with particular emphasis on the role of shared access centres and the factors that affect their performance. This book also examines the relationship between shared access centres, the goal of universal access, and strategies for development.