Sommario/riassunto	This is the concluding volume of a biography of William Empson, one of the foremost poets and literary critics of the twentieth century. It covers his turbulent years writing wartime propaganda for the BBC, through his return to China in the later 1940's to his time at Sheffield University, when he engaged all the more energetically in public controversy. - ; Following the acclaimed first volume, Among the Mandarins, this is the second and concluding volume of the authorized biography of William

Empson, one of the foremost poets and literary critics of the twentieth century. Against the Christian
