| Sommario/riassunto | Before Marcus Garvey and W. E. B. Du Bois lifted the banner for black liberation and independence, Martin Robison Delany (1812-1885) was at the forefront. He was the first black appointed as a combat major in the Union army during the Civil War. He was a pan-Africanist and a crusader for black freedom and equality in the nineteenth century. For the past three decades, however, this precursor has been regarded only as a militant black nationalist and ""racial essentialist."" To his discredit, | his ideas, programs, and accomplishments have been maintained as models of uncompromising militancy. CI
