

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910451406203321
Autore	Veldof Jerilyn R
Titolo	Creating the one-shot library workshop [[electronic resource]] : a step-by-step guide / / Jerilyn Veldof
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Chicago, : American Library Association, 2006
ISBN	0-8389-9847-X
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (180 p.)
Disciplina	025.5/6
Soggetti	Library orientation Library institutes and workshops Electronic books.
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Assess needs -- Analyze learners -- Brainstorm content -- Filter content -- Group content into modules -- Create task analysis -- Create teaching points -- Write objectives -- Build evaluation tools -- Create checks for understanding -- Revisit the need-to-knows -- Brainstorm teaching methods -- Choose teaching methods -- Structure workshop -- Develop materials -- Pilot workshop -- Change workshop as needed -- Deliver workshop -- Evaluate workshop -- Change workshop.
Sommario/riassunto	Good instruction should not be left to chance and luck...This book is intended to provide you with a deliberate process of instructional design and the essential background information to ensure the resounding success of your library workshops.—Jerilyn Veldof from the Introduction. Whether teaching research skills to college freshman, Internet skills to seniors, or staff development sessions to employees, librarians are repeatedly called on to deliver instruction in their library settings. Many librarians have never learned the basics of instructional design, much less how to effectively deliver