

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910451648303321
Autore	Parson Donald Craig
Titolo	Making a better world [[electronic resource] ] : public housing, the Red scare, and the direction of modern Los Angeles // Don Parson ; foreword by Kevin Starr
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Minneapolis, Minn., : University of Minnesota Press [Bristol, : University Presses Marketing, distributor], c2005
ISBN	0-8166-9605-5
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (312 p.)
Disciplina	363.5850979494
Soggetti	Public housing - California - Los Angeles - History Electronic books. Los Angeles (Calif.) History
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (p. 213-266) and index.
Nota di contenuto	The new day of decent housing : building a public housing program -- Homes for heroes : public housing during World War II -- David and Goliath : the struggle to expand the public housing program -- The "headline-happy public housing war" : public housing and the Red Scare -- "Old town, lost town, shabby town, crook town" : Bunker Hill and the modern cityscape -- This modern marvel : Chavez Ravine and the politics of modernism.
Sommario/riassunto	With sharp historical perspective, Making a Better World traces the rise and fall of a public housing ethic in Los Angeles and its impact on the city's built environment. Don Parson's examination not only gives us the recent history of a city but also opens up a new debate on a current national crisis in providing shelter for low-income Americans.