

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910452152603321
Autore	Shore Bradd <1945->
Titolo	Culture in mind [[electronic resource]] : cognition, culture, and the problem of meaning // Bradd Shore
Pubbl/distr/stampa	New York, : Oxford University Press, 1996
ISBN	9786610533619 1-280-53361-7 1-282-38416-3 9786612384165 0-19-535209-2 1-4237-6027-1
Edizione	[319th ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (447 p.)
Disciplina	155.8
Soggetti	Ethnopsychology Cognition and culture Social perception Symbolic anthropology Electronic books.
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Bibliographic Level Mode of Issuance: Monograph
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (p. 383-411) and indexes.
Sommario/riassunto	Culture in Mind is an ethnographic portrait of the human mind. Using case studies from both western and nonwestern societies. Shore argues that "cultural models" are necessary to the functioning of the human mind. Drawing on recent developments in cognitive science as well as anthropology, Culture in Mind explores the cognitive world of culture in the ongoing production of meaning in everyday thinking and feeling.