Sommario/riassunto

This volume is a detailed report of the 1919 conference proceedings of the Verein für Sozialpolitik in Regensburg, edited based on stenographic records. It features discussions on socio-economic issues post-World War I, including the relationship between Germany and Austria, and includes contributions from prominent economists and policymakers. The text provides insights into the socio-political climate of the time, reflecting on economic policies and the future of German-Austrian relations. It is intended for scholars, historians, and individuals interested in economic history and policy development in the post-war period.
