

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910452424403321
Autore	Middlewood David
Titolo	Practitioner research in education [[electronic resource]] : making a difference / / David Middlewood, Marianne Coleman, and Jacky Lumby
Pubbl/distr/stampa	London, : Paul Chapman, 1999
ISBN	1-4462-6544-7 1-283-88057-1 1-4462-1943-7
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (193 p.)
Collana	Educational management - research and practice
Altri autori (Persone)	ColemanMarianne LumbyJacky
Disciplina	370.72
Soggetti	Education - Research Teaching Electronic books.
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Cover; Contents; Series Editor's Foreword; Preface; Chapter 1 - The Significance of Site-Based Practitioner Research in Educational Management; Section A - Developing Aspects of Management; Chapter 2 - Developing the Management of People; Chapter 3 - Re-Appraising Roles through Research; Chapter 4 - Influencing the Management of the Curriculum; Chapter 5 - Transforming Structures and Culture; Section B - Affecting the School as an Institution; Chapter 6 - Some Effects of Multiple Research Projects on the Host School Staff and their Relationships; Chapter 7 - Influencing School Culture Chapter 8 - Engendering ChangeSection C - School Improvement - A Research-Rich Zone; Chapter 9 - What Makes for Effective Research in a School or College?; Chapter 10 - Conclusions; References; Author Index; Subject Index
Sommario/riassunto	The authors explore the effects of research by teachers & lecturers on organizational improvement, whether affecting whole school cultures through group work or influencing practice through individual research.

