

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910452679003321
Autore	Okeja Uchenna B. <1983->
Titolo	Normative justification of a global ethic [[electronic resource] ] : a perspective from African philosophy / / Uchenna B. Okeja
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Lanham, MD, : Lexington Books, 2013
ISBN	1-283-89177-8 0-7391-7691-9
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (173 p.)
Disciplina	170 170.96
Soggetti	Philosophy, African Ethics Electronic books.
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes index and bibliographical references.
Nota di contenuto	Table of Contents; Acknowledgments; Foreword; Introduction; 1 On the Concept of a Global Ethic; 2 The Context of the Normative Justification; 3 The Notion of African Ethics; 4 Reconstruction of the Global Ethic Project; 5 African Philosophy and the Normativity of a Global Ethic; 6 Normativity Beyond Sympathetic Impartiality; Bibliography; Index
Sommario/riassunto	This book focuses on the normative questions raised by the postulation and declaration of a global ethic. Its scope covers the questions "why do we need a global ethic?", "what kind of global ethic do we need and what sort of normative justification does it imply?" The book considers the imperative of global ethic to be plausible because it demands consistency in the application of the rule or standard of moral behavior.