

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910453210603321
Autore	Fisher Marshall
Titolo	A backhanded gift [[electronic resource] ] : a novel // Marshall Jon Fisher
Pubbl/distr/stampa	New York, : New Chapter Press, 2012
ISBN	1-937559-33-5
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (389 p.)
Disciplina	813.6
Soggetti	American fiction Electronic books. Germany Fiction
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di contenuto	Cover; Copyright; Dedication; 1; 2; 3; 4; 5; 6; 7; 8; 9; 10; 11; 12; 13
Sommario/riassunto	It's the late 1980's, just before the fall of the Berlin Wall, and Robert Cherney, a 30-year-old aspiring writer, has left New York City for a job teaching tennis in Munich. Aside from private lessons, he coaches the Maccabi Club men's league team, a motley group of neurotics whose eccentricities seem exacerbated by their situation as Jews living in Germany. They have made fortunes in postwar Germany but are hounded daily by the ghosts of the past and wracked with guilt over living so blithely among their parents' tormentors. One of the players on Robert's team is his best friend in Munich,