

1. Record Nr.	UNINA9910453443303321
Autore	Pipe John
Titolo	Financial cataclysm now! : why global stock and property markets are now going to fall faster and further than ever before-and how to survive it // by John Pipe
Pubbl/distr/stampa	[Luton, England] : , : Andrews UK Limited, , 2012 ©2012
ISBN	1-78166-187-1
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (118 p.)
Disciplina	332.024
Soggetti	Finance, Personal Investments Financial crises Electronic books.
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Sommario/riassunto	A review of the factors which will cause stock and property markets to fall once again and what to do about it. The first edition of this book was published in 2006 and correctly called the sharp falls seen in property and stock markets between 2007 and 2009. It also correctly identified the underlying fault lines being excessive amounts of debt secured on overvalued assets. Since then the Governments of the world have embarked on massive financial programs designed to debase their own currencies in the hope of increasing the price, but not the value, of assets. This has not been entirely without effect but, like King Canute before them, Governments will not thwart the financial tides. This will be a tough time for many but those who are informed by this book and the accompanying free updates will see fantastic opportunities.